

Extension Activities of History Department

Dr. M.H. Remesh Kumar, a faculty member of the Department, organized a significant cycle expedition aimed at raising public awareness about the contemporary importance of environmental protection and the urgent need to reduce dependence on fossil fuels. This initiative sought to highlight the crucial role individuals can play in safeguarding the environment and promoting sustainable practices.

Furthermore, even during the challenging period of the Covid-19 pandemic, the Department of History at Maharaja's College took a proactive step to support education by providing smart mobiles to deserving students from economically disadvantaged families. Recognizing the essential role of online education in ensuring continued learning opportunities, this initiative aimed to bridge the digital divide and enable these students to access educational resources and participate in online classes effectively.

By combining both environmental advocacy and educational support, the Department of History demonstrated its commitment to addressing pressing issues and creating a positive impact in the community. These initiatives showcased the department's dedication to promoting environmental consciousness and ensuring equal educational opportunities for students, even in challenging circumstances.
