Sri. Omal Aloysius

Dr. Vinod Kumar kallolickal

Smt. Geetha PC

Dr. Divya. T

Sri. Tarson Augustine.

The meeting discussed the defects of the syllabus and the findings are:

(a) Syllabus is restricted to a single author's work and each module is set according to four works of Eric Hobsbawm.

(b) Reference books for the syllabus is not sufficient and not related to the syllabus. (Most of the prescribed books not to the syllabus).

(c) Syllabus is overloaded.

The meeting also discussed the possibility of out of syllabus questions.

Decisions / Recommendations:

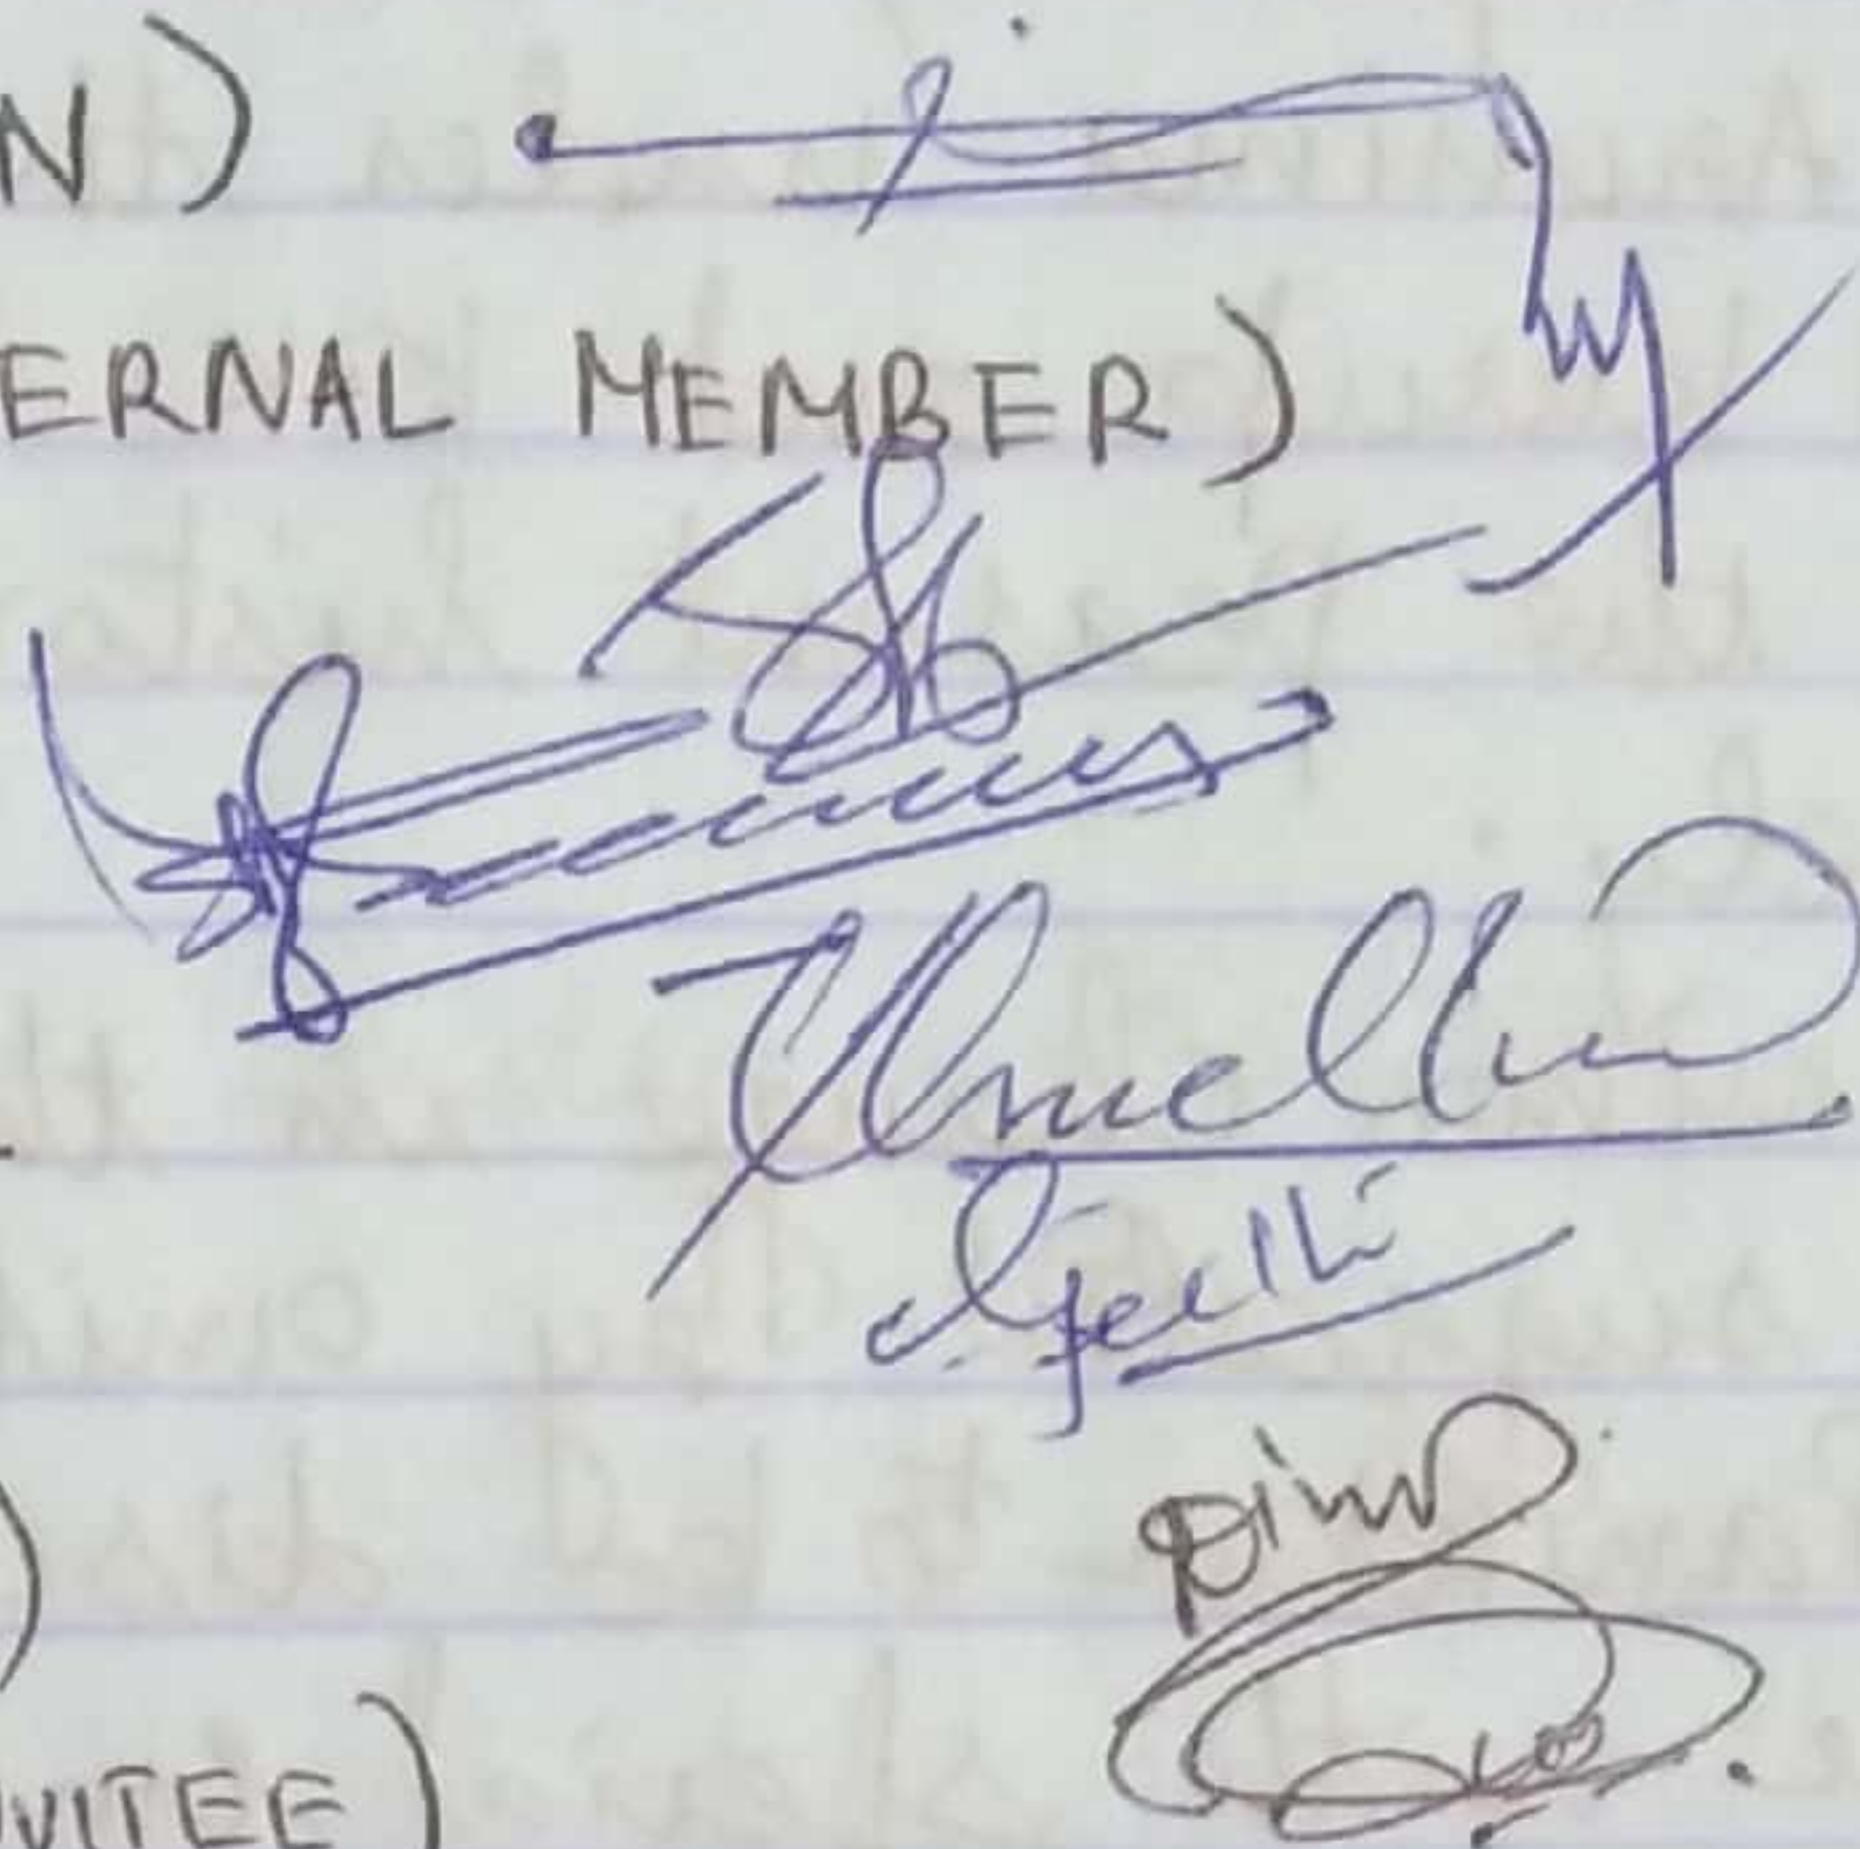

- (a) Syllabus of Global History - Modern world is to be revised.
- (b) For the present III Semester PG students syllabus of the above mentioned paper to be limited to the I and III modules.
- (c) To inform the same to the Principal, Academic Council Secretary and Controller of Examinations of Maharaja's college.

The meeting of the PG Board of Studies commenced at 10.30 am in the Department of History on 04/08/2018. The Board has taken the following decisions and the recommendations are as follows:-

Semester I

PG1HISCO1 - Approaches to History

In the IVth Module, the Topic 'Ideal Type and Verstehen' has been omitted as the same will be discussed in the introductory part of the module containing the description on Max Weber.

PG1HISCO3 - Historiography of Kerala

It has been decided to delete the following sub topics in Module III - 'Modern Historiography' starting with Contributions of Elankulam Kunjan Pillai to the Criticisms on Kunjan Pillai's thesis. The works of K. Damodaran, Chentharassery and Bhaskaran Unni are to be included in the list of readings.

In Module IV 'Recent trends', the topics on History of Trade and Local History to be omitted as it is included in other papers on Indian History and Research Methodology respectively. It was also decided to specially mention the names of J. Devika and G. Arunima under the sub topic Gender History. Dr. K.K.N. Kurup and K.K. Kochu to be included while discussing the peasant history and Palit history respectively.

A minor change in the title 'New cultural History' has been suggested by omitting the term 'New' and Dr. K.N. Panikkar to be discussed in detail under this title with special emphasis on his three articles.

It has also been suggested to delete Subaltern studies as the same is discussed in detail in the paper 'Approaches to History'. For the topic Communities and Religions reading list may include the works of Dr. Susan Thomas, M. Muralidharan and Dr. P.P. Abdul Rasak.

PGI HISC04 - Debates in Indian History - Early India

In Module III - 'Age of Mahajanapadas' the topic 'Gender issues - Bikkunhi's' to be omitted as it is taught in the paper 'History of Gender Relations' in the 4th Semester. The same change is applicable to the 4th Module in which the topics on Gender - Issues - Dharma Sastras, Smritis, Seed and Earth - Brahmanical Patriarchy are to be omitted.

PGI HISC05 - 'Global History - Ancient world'

In Module II, it has been suggested to delete the repeated term 'religion' and omit the last part of the module from 'Sumeria to trade - networks'. 'Rome' to be included in the Early Empires.

In Module III, the last part has been renamed as the 'decline of the ancient' by omitting the terms India, the decline of Han, Roman and Gupta Empires.

Semester II

PG2HISC09 - 'Debates in Indian History - Medieval India'.

In Module IV, the term 'Nature' to be added with Religion and 'culture'. Sub topics remain the same.

PG2HISC10 - Global History - Medieval world

Module IV to be concluded with the topic Imperial Expansion as the sub topics are repetitions of the main topic.

Semester III

PG3HISC14 - Debates in Indian History - Modern India

In Module IV the title has been changed to 'National Movement - Critique of Gandhian Programme' instead of National Movement - Gandhian Programmes since the sub topics are critiques of the Gandhian programmes.

PG3HISC15 - Global History - Modern world

It has been decided to emphasize in the introduction that the syllabus is exclusively based on the four books of Eric Hobsbawm. Hence all books except these four have to be removed from the reading list as they do not match with the topics mentioned in the Syllabus.

Semester IV -

PG4HISE01 - 'History of Gender Relations in India'

In Module I 'Why a History of Gender Relations' the topics, from 'History as a discipline up to other marginalized' to be omitted as the same will be discussed in the introductory part of the Module.

In Module III 'Gender and Modernity', Social Reform movements and Nationalism' the topic 'Women as Signifiers of the Nation' has been omitted as it will be discussed under the concept of Hindu Nation which precedes the above mentioned topic.

In Module V, the topic 'Construction of Masculinity' is omitted as it is a repetition of Module III.

The members of the Board also discussed on the non-availability of certain books mentioned in the reading list and decisions were taken to make the same available as early as possible. The meeting came to a close at 2.30 pm.
